

IRO Certificate #4599

NOTICE OF INDEPENDENT REVIEW DECISION

January 13, 2003

Re: IRO Case # M2-02-0941

Texas Worker's Compensation Commission:

___ has been certified as an independent review organization (IRO) and has been authorized to perform independent reviews of medical necessity for the Texas Worker's Compensation Commission (TWCC). Texas HB. 2600, Rule 133.308 effective January 1, 2002, allows a claimant or provider who has received an adverse medical necessity determination from a carrier's internal process, to request an independent review by an IRO.

In accordance with the requirement that TWCC assign cases to certified IROs, TWCC assigned this case to ___ for an independent review. ___ has performed an independent review of the proposed care to determine if the adverse determination was appropriate. For that purpose, ___ received relevant medical records, any documents obtained from parties in making the adverse determination, and any other documents and/or written information submitted in support of the appeal.

The case was reviewed by a physician who is Board Certified in Neurological Surgery. He or she has signed a certification statement attesting that no known conflicts of interest exist between him or her and any of the treating physicians or providers, or any of the physicians or providers who reviewed the case for a determination prior to referral to ___ for independent review. In addition, the certification statement further attests that the review was performed without bias for or against the carrier, medical provider, or any other party to this case.

The determination of the ___ reviewer who reviewed this case, based on the medical records provided, is as follows:

History

The patient is a 37-year-old male who in ___ was lifting pallets and developed low back pain with associated numbness in the right lower extremity. An MRI 3/28/02 showed some minor disk change at two levels, but it did not show any changes that would explain the patient's continued pain. Looking for some unusual source of the patient's discomfort, a bone scan was recommended.

Requested Service

Bone Scan

Decision

I disagree with the carrier's decision to deny the requested bone scan.

Rationale

Changes in the lumbar spine may be present that would account for the patient's discomfort and which could not be diagnosed by MRI or CT scan. The patient's examination indicates the possibility of a mechanical problem in his low back that could be missed on myelography or MRI, but its source could be suggested by a bone scan.

This medical necessity decision by an Independent Review Organization is deemed to be a Commission decision and order.
